Dan Bouligny Young Interior Designer Award

The Louisiana State Board of Examiners of Interior Designers has created a scholarship for an outstanding graduating senior from a Louisiana accredited Interior Design program. The Dan Bouligny Young Interior Designer Award recognizes the impressive contributions made to our profession by Dan Bouligny, the founding father of licensing in the state of Louisiana and the first chairman of the Board.

Applicants for the Award will be judged for academic superiority, successful demonstration of performing tasks that are necessary to fulfill professional endeavors, extra-curricular participation, and outstanding personal qualities and character.

The winner will be chosen by the Board annually.

The Dan Bouligny Young Interior Designer Award will provide funding to the recipient by waiving of fees for the following:

$25	The Louisiana State Board's Intern Interior Designer fee
$150	The Louisiana Registered Interior Designer application fee (Licensing application must be received within 3 years from when the award was granted)
$150	The Renewal Fee for the Second year of licensure
$350	1 free board sponsored CEU for each of the first 2 years of licensure
$675	Total value of award. There is no cash equivalent.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Graduate of a four year accredited Louisiana Interior Design Program
- GPA of 3.0 or above
- Community Service
- Membership in a Campus Professional Interior Design Organization or student membership in ASID or IIDA.
